TYPOGRAPHY

Aeonik

Aeonik Typeface is a geometric sans font family created by Mash Creative that challenges the modernism and the balance of the curves. As a Modernist typeface inspired by Grotesks but with details borrowed from mechanical early Grotesks, Aeonik can be described as a Neo-Grotesk with Geometric roots, and with the width that is wider than a Grotesk but thinner than a Geometric Sans.

From a structural standpoint, this makes for a great use for both display and text purposes. Seven broad weights are given based on the Pablo distribution and there is enough differentiation in weight to provide the necessary hierarchy.
